EMINENT OPINIONS.

The Chicago Record Publishes Comments on the Message.

WHAT THE GOVERNORS SAY.

Expressions of Opinion Given by Some Senators and Representatives—A General Feeling in Favor of Upholding the Monroe Doctrine.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The Record published this morning the following messages from governors in regard to the president's message:

Atlanta, Ga.—The president's message is a correct interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, and the Venezuelan question furnishes a case which calls for its enforcement. The people of Georgia will approve of the message of the president.—W. C. Atkinson, Governor.

Richmond, Va.—It is strong, pointed and direct, and can leave no doubt as to his position.
It is characteristic of the man, courageous and truly American. There will be no retraction on his part. The Monroe doctrine is the very woof and web of the policy upon the maintenance of which depends our safety against European aggrandizement, and the greed and avarice of European powers.—Charles T.
O'Ferrall.

Burlington, Vt.—President Cleveland's message is unmistakable in its tone and will undoubtedly meet with the approval of the majority of the people of the United States without regard to party. I consider it an act of hostility to the United States for Great Britain to attempt to acquire more territory on this continent, and we must vigorously assert our rights, and prevent it.—Woodbury, Governor.

Boise, Ida.—I am proud of the manner in which the president has declared his Americanism. The people of Idaho will support him in the field, if need be, in maintaining the position he has taken.—W. J. McConnell, Governor.

Montgomery, Ala.—President Cleveland's Venezuela message is soundly American. The congress should take his advice and give the country practical Monroe doctrine and make it international law if it is not.—William C.
Oates.

Sacramento, Cal.—President Cleveland's message is able, wise and timely, and will meet the approval of the people of the United States, whose views it voices.—James H. Budd, Governor.

Columbus, O.—Replying to your dispatch of this date touching President Cleveland's Venezuela message, it is my judgment that the president's firm and dignified statement of the adherence of our government to the Monroe doctrine will command the approval of the people of Ohio. His message enforces with strength and vigor the position of the United States in its relation with European powers for more than 70 years. It is American in letter and spirit, and in a calm and dispassionate manner upholds the honor of the nation and insures its security.—William McKinley, Governor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Among the opinions expressed by public men are the following:

Senator Vilas, democrat: It is a strong American state paper, and will take rank with the ablest papers that have ever emanated from the executive mansion.

Senator Hawley, republican: It is a good and sensible document, but it may be subject to the criticism in some quarters that it is too plainly put.

Senator Warren, republican: It is a good message. No fault can be found with it by Americans who favor the upholding of American doctrine.

Senator Atkins, republican: The president does not seem to be sure of his position and should have known what the situation was before taking the ground. Now he proposes a commission to find out what should have been known before.

Senator Frye, republican: I am delighted with the message. It has a genuine American tone and is patriotic throughout. It voices my sentiments exactly.

Senator Chandler, republican: It is a broad and courageous paper and expounds a doctrine for which the United States will fight if necessary.

Representative Henderson, republican: I like the message. It is uncompromising on the great underlying principle of the Monroe doctrine. I cannot doubt that congress will promptly sustain the president in his recommendation for a commission.

Representative Livingston: Mr. Cleveland's message is clear cut and American to the core.
It is the recognition of the Monroe doctrine in all its length and breadth.

BRITISH COMMENTS.

President Cleveland's Message Regarded as an Election Device—The Monroe Doctrine Scouted.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Daily News, the liberal organ, says concerning President Cleveland's message:

It is a remarkable document, though its consequences are not likely to be serious. Neither Secretary Olney nor President Cleveland seems to realize that the Monroe doctrine cannot be quoted as authoritative in negotiations with a foreign power. The definition of Monroeism is a matter for Americans themselves. It binds nobody else. President Cleveland proves too much.

The Chronicle, liberal, says:
The message will be read here with blank astonishment. Can these be serious words addressed to us by the descendants of the little shipload of English folks who sailed in the Mayflower? We will not take things too seriously, but will suppose that President Cleveland is engaged in the familiar work of tallenting. There is but one answer. If the enlarged application of the Monroe doctrine is to be enforced, America must become responsible for the foreign policy of all the petty and impetuous little states on the two continents of America.

The Post, conservative, says: A dispatch of this kind is clearly intended not for the English foreign office, but for the American electors. The commission proposed can have no more binding effect on this country than would the decision of the supreme court at Washington.

The Morning, conservative, regard the message as an election device, but not a dignified one.

The Standard, the conservative or gan, says:

This extraordinary document will receive from English publicists more dispassionate treatment than the decidedly provocative nature of its contents renders altogether easy. I was prepared by the responsible head of state and will probably receive the formal assent of congress. Englishmen must therefore take it seriously and refrain from speculation that would otherwise be attractive as to its utility. In view of the presidential election, it is a little surprising that the position President Cleveland assumes is preposterous. No American citizen would for a moment dream of admitting its soundness in any analogous case in which the honor and interests of America were concerned.

GEN. MOSES B. WALKER.

KENTON, O., Dec. 18.—Gen. Moses B.
Walker, the hero of Chickamauga, died yesterday. Eleven days ago he was stricken with paralysis. Gen. Walke was born in 1819. He served throughout the war and was conspicuous for his bravery in 16 battles. He was the last man that left the bloody field of Chickamauga.

CARS UNDER GUARD.

Very Few Philadelphia Street Cars Are Running—Extra Officers on Duty.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—Last night not a street car of the Union Traction Co. was running, though that company controls every line in the city with the exception of two comparatively short cross-town lines. The police were absolutely unable to control the mob violence during the day and the company concluded to shut down at nightfall. Five hundred extra policemen were sworn in by Mayor Warwick last night and added to the regular force of 2,100. All had orders from Mayor Warwick to carry their batons unsheathed. Should this fail, the government will be appealed to, to order out the militia, the mayor declaring that this strike was no longer a battle between a railway company and its employees, but a battle between the city and violence, and the city would win, even if it should call for the United States army. The staff officers of the national guard of Pennsylvania remained in their armories last night uniformed and armed.

This morning all of the branches were in effect tied up, although cars with formidable escorts of police made their circuits nearly everyone of them without molestation. While this enabled the officials to declare that the lines were "open" it did not help the situation much as far as the convenience of the riding public was concerned. There were more cars on Chestnut street than any other thoroughfare in the city. At irregular intervals the immense concourse of pedestrians was treated to the spectacle of a trolley car moving slowly down the street preceded and followed by four mounted police men and carrying on the front and rear platforms five more policemen, each officer armed with a heavy oak night stick.

The officials of the company declare that they have plenty of men to run the cars if they can get protection for them. On the other hand, the strikers declare that enough skilled men to take their places cannot be obtained.

A MARREY CHRISTMAS.

"Christmas comes but once a year, When it comes it brings good cheer."

IN A STEW

because Christmas is near and you don't know what to buy for presents. Sit-way about your rich friends, but as to the poor—(you must know of poor deserving people). We beg to suggest that they would appreciate articles of food, a daisy bun for instance, or a dozen of canned tomatoes or [Vinton corn—or perhaps a basket of potatoes—or a sack of Halstead Flour.

We want to let you have as much for your money as possible, so that we can have our share in helping the poor, therefore, we have made a scale of Christmaprices, which ought to please those who buy and those who receive. Are you glad we suggest it?
